Bacardi

In 1862, the first samples of a smooth, light-bodied spirit – what the world now knows as BACARDÍ premium rum – originated from a humble tin-roof distillery with bats in the rafters. Today Bacardi is the largest privately held family-owned spirits company in the world and is known for its Cuban-style white rum.

Remy Martin

It began in 1724, when Remy Martin, a winegrower from Cognac, started making cognac under his own name, which was recognised by the King of France in 1738 for its quality.

This standard of excellence has been carried forward by many talents ever since, and constantly maintained from one generation of the family to the next.
